

Meeting Minutes 7/10/03

We met on 7/10 to discuss plans for WelcomeWeek activities.

"Death by Chocolate" turned out to be fudge brownies with chocolate brownie ice cream, fudge sauce and heath candy crumbles. (pass the insulin, please!)

Kelli Webb reported that she has already sold several donated textbooks on Half.com, and presented a check for $79.39 to Mary Valli, to form the initial deposit into the ACM-W coffers. Along with my $.75 contribution (from sale of books to Halfprice Books), we now have over $80!

Mary Valli is working to complete the Student Organization online registration form so that we can get some OSU money, too.

Rebecca Fiebrink reported that she and Vlad will start work on the ACM-W website (<http://www.cis.ohio-state.edu/acmw/>) next week. Many ideas for inclusion in the website were shouted at her in a chorus, so it should be very interesting to see the results.

We agreed to put up a table for the Student Involvement Fair (9/22, noon-3p), which would include flyers, an ACM-W poster, electronic debris from Computer Jenga, and the videotape of the computer assassination meeting.

Mary Valli will make sure that we're registered to participate.

We also determined that we should plan two follow-up activities that prospective members and other interested folks could sign up for at our table. One activity will be a tour of the Ohio Supercomputing Center, which Kelli is arranging. The other activity will be a new member orientation with another computer jenga type activity and better-than-usual food.

So here are the important dates, times, and places for you to remember (note: conference rooms were not available for the dates we agreed to on 7/10, so please update your calendars accordingly) :

Aug 21 '03 5-7p DL 698 (change in room)-

Finalize Student Involvement Fair plans, prepare flyers, etc.

Sep 22 '03 noon-3pm The Oval -
Student Involvement Fair

Sep 30 '03 5:30-7:30p DL480 (change in date) -
New Member Orientation Meeting, Food, Fun, Computer Jenga